Oh! Finally I counter checked this model's navel (肚脐) got a expensive glistening gem. This might irritate humans eye so as to get the grand prize. So brother - for future you must prepared something special before you go for competition.

Not necessarily a must, but this is a contest - sometimes people question your judgement. If you shoot for fun then it's okay, but by what criteria does anyone can come to a conclusion that a shot like this can emerge winner amongst so many dozens of photos?

Note : This is simply a comment, dun take it to heart, I am just questioning the image, not the judges.

do disappointed abit on the result. As i thought ms model competition should emphasize on overall beauty of the model. But after seeing the result, it seems to me more on portraiture (close up, half body, extreme close up) while leaving the full body photos on the side. Unless im looking for model only for some cosmetic shot.
